CORPORATE AUDITS

SUMMARY

Warren was conducting his Cheeseburger Bobby's and Huey Luey's quality assurance inspections on paper. He spent countless hours tallying up scores and preparing a report to be sent out to the stakeholders. He had no access to the data nor the ability to attach photos to a response. Warren knew that his time was more valuable. If he could take the time that was being wasted on busy work and put that towards coaching and revenue generating activities everyone involved would benefit.
